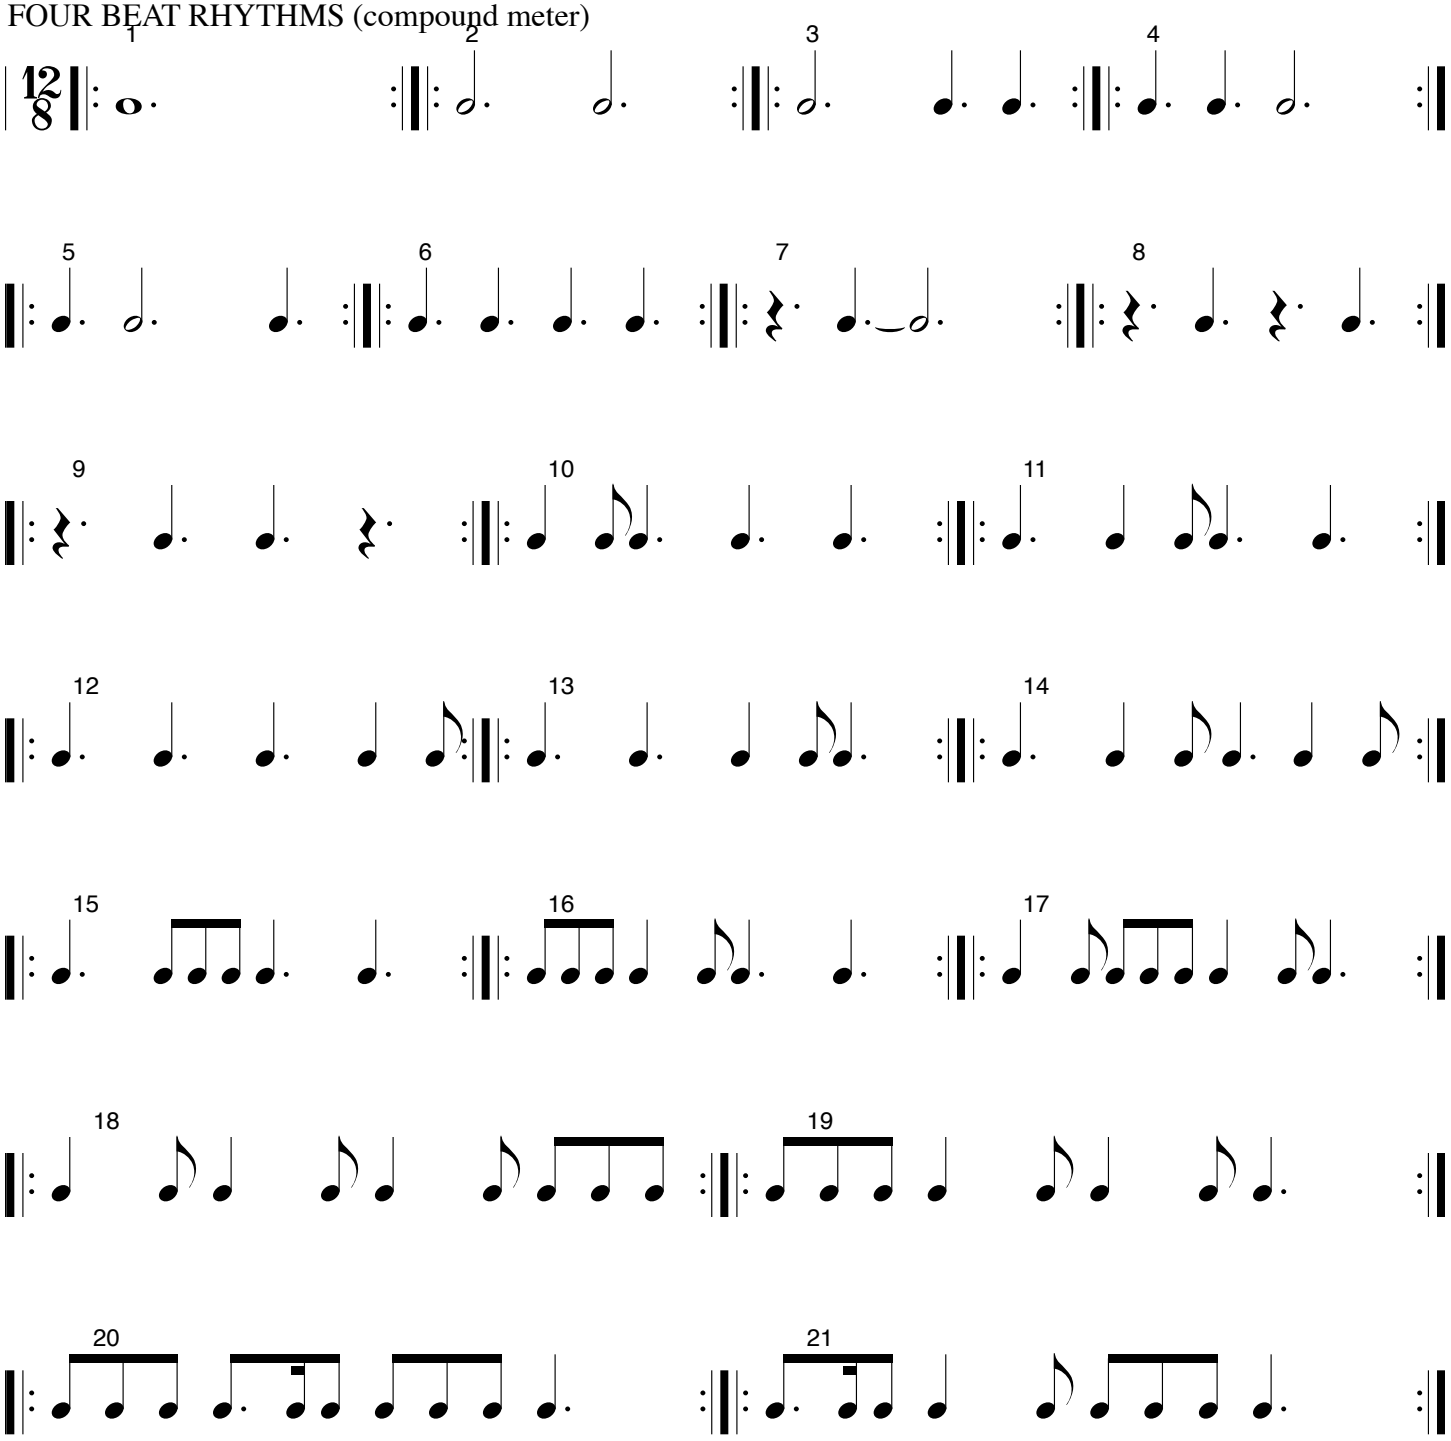
Compound meter rhythms

In 12/8 Meter the eighth note is often the subdivision of the dotted quarter note pulse. The meter is often perceived as a 4 beat meter with the beat defined as a dotted quarter and the eighth note is part of a three part subdivision of the beat. Three eighth notes make up one count in compound meters. Each measure of the following compound rhythms are played four times in the audio file.


FOUR BEAT RHYTHMS (compound meter)